A Play by Leila Buck

A one-woman journey through identity,
Otherness, and the worlds in between.

Leila Buck is the daughter of a Lebanese mother and American diplomat father, and grew up in Kuwait, Oman, Iraq, Canada, and Washington, D.C. before becoming an actress and educator in New York. Through a series of sketches focusing on Leila's story and those of her Lebanese and American family members, her play traces a life lived in constant transit and co-existence between many worlds. With humor and honesty, Leila leads her audience on a deeply personal and yet ultimately universal journey through identity, Otherness, and the worlds in between.
